

FEEDBACK AND COMPLAINTS MANAGEMENT POLICY AND PROCEDURE

Quality Area 2: VET Student Support

Standard: 2.7

1. PURPOSE

This policy outlines Allman College's commitment to providing a fair, transparent and accessible process for students and stakeholders to provide feedback or lodge a formal complaint. It ensures that all complaints are addressed promptly, without prejudice, and in accordance with the principles of procedural fairness. Feedback and complaint outcomes are used to inform continuous improvement.

2. RATIONALE

Under Standard 2.7 of the Outcome Standards, RTOs are required to operate a feedback and complaints management system that is accessible, procedurally fair, and used to inform continuous improvement. This policy ensures procedural fairness, clear timeframes, and well-documented outcomes in a system that encourages open communication and systemic quality review.

Allman College values student feedback as a driver of quality improvement and acknowledges that complaints may arise. By establishing a structured, transparent and supportive approach, the RTO ensures students can express concerns without fear of disadvantage and that responses are fair, proportionate and constructive

3. POLICY STATEMENT

Allman College is committed to providing a high-quality learning experience and promoting a culture of open feedback. All students, staff, employers, and third parties are encouraged to provide positive and critical feedback and are entitled to have their complaints managed professionally, confidentially, and without fear of reprisal. This policy ensures that:

- A culture of open communication exists where feedback and complaints are welcomed and viewed as opportunities for learning and continuous improvement. No student will be penalised or treated unfairly for raising a concern genuinely and in good faith.
- Feedback and complaints can be made regarding any aspect of Allman College's operations, including third parties.
- All complaints are managed in accordance with the principles of natural justice and procedural fairness. The person lodging the complaint will not suffer any disadvantage as a result.

- Clear and accessible information about the complaints process is provided to all students and stakeholders.
- All complaints are documented, and outcomes are communicated to all relevant parties.

- Feedback and complaints are analysed to identify trends and inform continuous improvement.

Allman College applies the principles of natural justice and procedural fairness in all complaints and feedback processes. This means:

- All parties have the right to be heard and respond to information presented;
- Complaints are managed without bias by staff not directly involved in the matter;
- Affected individuals are informed of potential adverse decisions and given an opportunity to respond;
- Students and staff are protected from victimisation for lodging complaints in good faith;

7. LEGISLATIVE REQUIREMENTS

Legislative and Regulatory Requirements

This policy is informed by and complies with the following legislative and regulatory instruments:

- Standards for RTOs 2025 – Standard 2.7
Requires RTOs to have systems in place to manage feedback and complaints that are accessible, fair, transparent, and used to inform continuous improvement.

- Australian Consumer Law (Schedule 2 of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010)
Provides protections for students as consumers, including the right to fair treatment, accurate information, and avenues to resolve disputes related to service provision.
- Privacy Act 1988 (Cth)
Ensures the confidentiality and protection of personal information collected during the feedback and complaints process, including the use and secure storage of records.
- Disability Discrimination Act 1992 (Cth)

- Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission Act 1986 (Cth)

8. PROCEDURE

Complaints and feedback mechanisms are made visible on Allman College's website, student handbook, and orientation materials.

Students and stakeholders may provide feedback or lodge complaints through various channels, including online forms, email, in person, or during class evaluations. Complaints can relate to training quality, staff conduct, facilities, third-party services, or any other area of concern.

Information about the feedback and complaints process is available in accessible formats upon request, including large print, Braille, and audio. Interpreters and culturally safe support options are also available as needed to ensure equitable access to the process.

A complaint does not need to be formally documented by the complainant in order to be acted upon. All complaints, including informal feedback and formal written complaints, are documented and reviewed.

All complaints are subject to triage to determine urgency and risk upon receipt. This involves assessing the nature and potential risk of the complaint.

- High-priority complaints include those involving threats to health, safety, child protection, discrimination, sexual harassment, or bullying.
- These matters are immediately escalated to the Compliance Manager or CEO (as appropriate) and responded to within 24–48 hours.
- Complaints assessed as lower risk will follow the standard resolution pathway. Triage decisions and actions are recorded in the Complaint Management Register

Students may request assistance to lodge a complaint. Language support, disability access services, or cultural safety support may be provided on request. Complainants have the right to be accompanied by a support person, such as a friend, advocate or interpreter, at any meeting or discussion related to the complaint. There is no cost to the complainant for participating in this way.

Staff who are the subject of a complaint will be provided with full details of the allegation, afforded the opportunity to respond, and supported throughout the process. Procedural fairness applies equally to staff and students

Once a complaint is received, the Compliance Manager acknowledges receipt within two (2) working days and resolved within ten working days where possible. Where delays occur, complainants are provided updates at least fortnightly with reasons and revised timeframes.

All parties have the right to be heard and to respond. Complaints are reviewed by impartial staff not involved in the original matter.

An impartial investigation is commenced, and the parties involved are afforded the opportunity to present their views. A resolution is generally reached within ten (10) working days. Outcomes of complaints may include actions such as reassessment, refunds, apologies, provision of additional support, amendments to learning resources, staff training, or updates to policy or procedure. Remedies must be authorised by the Compliance Manager or CEO and documented in the Complaints Register.

Where additional time is required, the complainant will be informed in writing with reasons and an updated timeframe.

If the matter cannot be resolved internally, Allman College provides access to an external independent mediator at low or no cost to the complainant. All complaints are documented in the Complaints Register, and outcomes are communicated in writing to all involved parties.

The following are appropriate external agencies:

- In relation to consumer related issues, the person may refer their complaint to the Office of Fair Trading.
- In relation to the delivery of training and assessment services, the person may refer their complaint to the National Training Complaints Service via the following phone number: 13 38 73 or visit the website at <https://www.dewr.gov.au/national-training-complaints-hotline>

All complaint records are maintained securely in the Complaint Management Register.

- Records include complaint details, communications, decisions, actions taken, and outcomes.
- Documents are stored in a secure, access-restricted system for a minimum of five years, in accordance with regulatory and privacy requirements.
- Only authorised personnel (e.g. Compliance Manager, CEO) may access these records

The root cause of complaints is identified where applicable, and necessary improvements are made to policies, procedures, training or services. Where appropriate, follow-up contact is made with the complainant to confirm satisfaction with the outcome and to ensure the matter is fully resolved.

Complaints are reviewed quarterly as part of RTO's Continuous Improvement Plan.

9. POLICY IMPLEMENTATION

This policy is implemented through:

- Staff training and induction to ensure awareness and understanding of feedback and complaints procedures.
- Clear and accessible publication of the policy on Allman College's website and in the Student Handbook.
- Integration with Allman College's continuous improvement processes to ensure complaint trends inform strategic actions.
- Allocation of responsibilities to ensure all staff are aware of their role in managing and responding to complaints.
- Regular reviews of the complaints register to identify systemic issues and drive policy refinement.
- Internal audits and reviews to monitor adherence to policy and procedure and to assess the effectiveness of the complaints handling system.

10. MONITORING AND EVALUATION

The effectiveness of the feedback and complaints system is monitored through regular review of complaints data, student feedback, and Continuous Improvement actions. As part of this process, the RTO conducts root cause analysis to determine whether complaints arise from isolated incidents, systemic issues, or policy/procedure gaps. This involves reviewing patterns and trends, consulting with relevant stakeholders, and mapping complaints to possible underlying causes such as communication breakdowns, training design, staff conduct, or operational processes. Outcomes of this analysis are used to inform targeted improvements and are documented in the Continuous Improvement Register. Annual reporting to the governing body includes trends, risks and recommendations for improvement.

Complaints data and management practices are included in the RTO's internal audit schedule and reported annually to the governing body. Reporting includes resolution timeframes, satisfaction data (where available), and the effectiveness of implemented improvements.
