SECTION 1: ENROLMENT AND ORIENTATION

ABOUT ALLMAN COLLEGE

At Allman College, we believe learning should be practical, engaging, and life-changing. We're here to help you build the skills and confidence you need to take the next step, whether that's launching a new career, growing in your current role, or simply learning something new.

Allman College is a nationally recognised Registered Training Organisation (RTO), with registration code 45611, and is regulated by the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA). We meet all national standards for quality training delivery, assessment, staffing, facilities, financial stability, and student support and we're proud to offer qualifications that reflect real industry needs.

Our responsibility is to ensure that you receive high-quality training and assessment in line with the Standards for RTOs 2025, and that your Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) certificate or statement of attainment is issued with integrity and care. These standards ensure that your qualification is respected and recognised across Australia.

We offer a wide range of courses, all listed on our website, and we take great pride in creating a positive, inclusive and supportive learning environment. Our trainers and staff are experienced, approachable, and focused on your success, whether you're studying in the classroom, online, or in the workplace.

Allman College offers its training products in the following modes for domestic students:

- Institution based. This mode of delivery for those who prefer to attend structured face to face training which enables them to interact directly with their trainer and with other students.
- Work based. Allman College comes to the workplace at agreed times and delivers training and conducts assessment. Training may be delivered to an individual or a group.
- Online. This mode of delivery is designed for students who prefer the flexibility of learning remotely, with access to digital learning resources, trainer support, and scheduled online activities.

This Student Handbook is designed to give you a clear understanding of what to expect while studying with us, and how we can support you throughout your journey. It outlines your rights, responsibilities, and the services we provide, from orientation to graduation. Specific information about your course will be provided separately in the Course Brochure.

At Allman College, you're not just another enrolment — you're a valued part of our learning community. We're excited to have you with us and we look forward to supporting you every step of the way.

UNDERSTANDING VOCATIONAL EDUCATION AND TRAINING (VET)

The Australian VET system is designed to provide students with practical skills and knowledge aligned to industry needs. Training is delivered by Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) like Allman College and is based on nationally endorsed Training Packages.

Competency-Based Training: Students must demonstrate that they are competent in each unit of competency, meaning they can apply the required skills and knowledge in workplace situations. Assessment is based on evidence of your ability to meet these standards.

National Recognition: Qualifications and Statements of Attainment issued by Allman College are recognised across all RTOs in Australia, supporting national portability of your achievements.

Training Packages: These define the skills and knowledge outcomes but do not prescribe how training is delivered. This gives providers flexibility to design training that suits students and meets qualification requirements.

Your Training and Assessment: You will be informed of the units, assessments, and delivery methods as part of your enrolment and induction. To be awarded a qualification, you must successfully complete all required assessments in line with the course rules.

ELIGIBILITY AND COURSE ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

To enrol in a course at Allman College, you must meet the entry requirements for your chosen qualification. These requirements are in place to ensure that you are appropriately prepared to engage with the course content and successfully complete the training and assessment.

Each course has its own specific entry requirements, which may include one or more of the following:

- A minimum age requirement
- Previous qualifications or units of competency
- Relevant work experience or industry background
- Language, Literacy, Numeracy and Digital capability (LLND) levels appropriate to the course level
- Access to specific equipment or workplace environments (where applicable)

Details of the entry requirements for your course are provided in the Course Brochure and confirmed during the enrolment process.

Before your enrolment is accepted, you will be required to complete a Pre-Enrolment Review. This review helps us to:

- Confirm that the course is suitable for your learning goals
- Identify any support you may need to complete the course successfully
- Determine any recognition of prior learning or credit transfer that may apply

If at any stage we determine that a course is not suitable for you, or that an alternative pathway may be more appropriate, we will discuss your options and support you in making an informed decision.

LANGUAGE, LITERACY, NUMERACY AND DIGITAL SKILLS

Language, literacy, numeracy, and digital (LLND) skills are essential for participation in vocational education and employment. These core capabilities underpin the ability to follow instructions, communicate effectively, complete assessments, use technology and perform practical workplace tasks such as weighing, measuring, interpreting documentation, and accessing online platforms. As training increasingly involves digital tools and flexible delivery models, digital literacy has become as critical as reading, writing, and numeracy.

In line with the Outcome Standards for RTOs 2025, Allman College assesses each student's LLND capability prior to enrolment to ensure that students are appropriately prepared for their training program. This review is not intended to exclude students but rather to identify where support may be required to ensure successful participation and course completion. Where a student's LLND capability is not aligned with the course requirements, Allman College will work with the student to determine suitable support, referral options, or alternative pathways.

LLND Support for Students Enrolled in Qualifications

Students enrolling in full qualifications will participate in a structured pre-training review that includes:

- A review of the student's language, literacy, numeracy, and digital capability in relation to the entry requirements and demands of the training product and mode of delivery.
- Consideration of any existing qualifications or recent relevant experience, where appropriate.
- Screening tools that are aligned to Australian Core Skills Framework (for LLN) and Australian Digital Capability Framework or equivalent (for digital literacy).

To support students identified as needing additional assistance, Allman College will:

- Provide training and assessment materials and delivery methods that are suitable to the learner's needs and the level of the course.
- Clearly communicate the types of LLND support available internally and externally.
- Refer students to foundation skills programs or other external support services if the level of support needed is beyond what Allman College can reasonably provide.
- Negotiate reasonable adjustments or extensions to training timeframes, where appropriate and permitted by the training package.

Where a student's LLND capacity indicates that the training product is not currently suitable, the RTO will provide guidance on more appropriate training or support options.

LLND Review for Short Courses

Students enrolling in short courses (such as First Aid or RSA) may be required to complete a brief LLND screening as part of their enrolment application. This ensures that the student has the basic skills required to engage safely and effectively with the training and assessment process.

If a student has concerns about their language, literacy, numeracy, or digital capabilities, we strongly encourage them to contact the RTO before the course begins. Our staff will be happy to discuss course expectations, assess suitability, and explore any support that may assist in achieving success.

UNIQUE STUDENT IDENTIFIER (USI)

All students undertaking nationally recognised training in Australia are required to have a Unique Student Identifier (USI).

Your USI is a reference number that gives you access to your training records and results from all registered training providers in one secure online location. It is a requirement under Australian Government legislation that you provide your USI to Allman College before you can be issued with any nationally recognised qualification or statement of attainment.

What You Need to Know:

- If you already have a USI, you must provide it at the time of enrolment.
- If you do not have a USI, you can create one quickly and easily at www.usi.gov.au.
- Allman College can assist you in applying for a USI during the enrolment or orientation process if you require help.
- Your USI must match the details on your identification documents (e.g. name, date of birth).

There are several unique circumstances where a person may be exempt from requiring a USI. These do not apply to the vast majority of students in Australia. The USI Exemption Table is available from the USI website which explains these circumstances. Individuals who have a genuine personal objection to being assigned a USI can apply for an exemption to the Student Identifiers Registrar. Individuals who have been exempted must show the original of this notice to their training organisation. Training organisations will not need to collect a USI in order to issue a VET qualification or statement of attainment to exempt individuals. If the student later wants a USI the training completed under exemption cannot be added to their USI account retrospectively. Further details can be accessed at www.usi.gov.au For more information or assistance, please speak with Student Administration.

REASONABLE ADJUSTMENT AND INCLUSIVE LEARNING

Allman College is committed to providing an inclusive and equitable learning environment for all students. We recognise that students may have individual needs arising from disability, health conditions, learning difficulties, cultural background, or personal circumstances that may impact their ability to participate fully in training and assessment.

To support your success, Allman College offers reasonable adjustments in line with the Disability Standards for Education 2005 and the Standards for RTOs 2025.

What is Reasonable Adjustment?

Reasonable adjustment refers to changes or modifications made to training delivery or assessment methods to support equitable participation — without compromising the integrity of the course outcomes.

Examples include:

- Providing additional time to complete assessments
- Adjusting assessment formats (e.g., oral instead of written)
- Allowing assistive technology
- Providing materials in accessible formats (e.g., large print)
- Offering alternate scheduling or support arrangements

How to Request an Adjustment

If you believe you may require reasonable adjustment, please notify:

- Your trainer or assessor
- The Student Support Officer
- Or Student Administration during enrolment or orientation

You may be asked to provide relevant documentation to assist in planning your support. All requests are handled confidentially and respectfully.

We encourage you to speak with us as early as possible, so we can work with you to design a training experience that supports your needs.

SAFETY AND WELLBEING

Allman College is committed to providing a safe, supportive, and respectful learning environment for all students. We understand that student wellbeing, both physical and emotional, is vital to learning success.

Whether you are studying on campus, online, or in the workplace, your health and safety matter to us.

Safety

Allman College is committed to providing you a safe environment in which to participate in training and assessment. The following guidelines are provided as a basis for safe practice in the training environment:

- Know and observe details of emergency response and evacuation plans;
- Do not undertake activities which may cause injury to self or others;
- Be responsible for your own actions;
- No smoking at the training and assessment facilities or offices;
- Report all potential hazards, accidents and near misses to the RTO staff;

- If you are involved in any accident which results in personal injury and /or damage to equipment or facilities, notify the Trainer immediately.
- No consumption of illicit substances within training and assessment facilities or during the conduct of training and assessment;
- Keep training and assessment areas neat and tidy at all times;
- Seek assistance if you volunteer to lift items e.g. move furniture in a training area;
- Observe hygiene standards particularly in eating and bathroom areas.

Safety Online

When engaging in online activities, particularly while studying through your RTO's learning management system (LMS), it is crucial to prioritise your safety and security. Always be cautious about sharing personal information such as your full name, address, phone number, or financial details on public forums or with people you do not know. Only upload your assignments, assessments, or personal documents via secure portals such as the official LMS or RTO-authorised email addresses.

Use strong, unique passwords for different accounts and enable two-factor authentication where available, especially for access to the LMS, email, and student portals. Be wary of links and attachments in emails or messages from unknown sources, as these may lead to phishing sites or contain malware. If you receive a suspicious message claiming to be from Allman College, contact the College directly to verify its authenticity.

Respect others online as you would in person. Use professional and courteous language in forums, discussion boards, and virtual classrooms. Harassment, discrimination, or inappropriate behaviour in the online environment is not tolerated and should be reported immediately to your trainer or Student Support Officer.

Be aware of your digital footprint—everything you post, share, or comment on can be permanent and may be viewed by future employers or educators. Avoid oversharing on social media and ensure your privacy settings are up to date.

Allman College monitors LMS activity for your safety and to support academic integrity. If you ever feel unsafe, experience inappropriate conduct, or need help navigating your online learning environment, reach out to Student Support. Your safety, wellbeing, and success are a top priority—online and offline.

Whether you're feeling overwhelmed, facing mental health challenges, experiencing family or financial stress, or struggling to stay engaged—help is available.

We are committed to providing a safe, respectful, and supportive learning environment. If you are experiencing any difficulties, please speak with your trainer, the Student Support Officer, or contact Student Services. We can offer guidance, adjust your learning plan where appropriate, and refer you to external professional services if needed. Your privacy will be respected, and support will be tailored to your individual needs to help you stay on track with your training.

Equity

Allman College is committed to ensuring that the training and assessment environment is free from discrimination and harassment. All Allman College staff members (including contractors) are aware that discrimination and harassment will not be tolerated under any circumstances. In the event that discrimination and harassment is found to have occurred disciplinary action will be taken against any staff member who breaches this policy. Suspected criminal behaviour will be reported to police authorities immediately.

Students who feel that they have been discriminated against or harassed should report this information to a staff member that they feel they can trust. This will initiate a complaints handling procedure which will be fair and transparent and will protect your rights as a complainant. Alternatively, if a student wishes to report an instance of discrimination or harassment to an agency external to Allman College, they are advised to contact the Australian Human rights Commission Complaints Info-line on 1300 656 419.

Respectful and Inclusive Environment

We are committed to providing an inclusive space where all students are treated with dignity and respect. Discrimination, bullying, harassment, or intimidation of any kind will not be tolerated.

Students are expected to:

Assessment is an essential part of your course. It confirms that you have the required knowledge and skills to meet the requirements of each unit of competency and to receive a nationally recognised qualification.

At Allman College, all assessments are conducted in accordance with the Principles of Assessment and the Rules of Evidence, ensuring they are fair, flexible, valid, and reliable.

Portfolio

You will receive clear instructions for each assessment, including the due date, marking criteria, and what to do if you need more time or support.

- Explain assessment tasks and expectations clearly
- Provide reasonable timeframes for completion
- Ensure assessment conditions are consistent with training package requirements

Where a unit requires demonstration of workplace skills, these will be assessed either in a real or simulated workplace environment that meets industry standards.

Submitting Assessments

You must submit your assessments by the due date unless an extension is approved. Late submissions without prior approval may be deemed Not Satisfactory.

If you are unsure about a task or need help, speak with your trainer before the due date.

PRINCIPLES OF ASSESSMENT AND RULES OF EVIDENCE

Allman College applies the nationally agreed Principles of Assessment and Rules of Evidence to ensure that all assessments are valid, fair, consistent, and reliable.

These principles guide our assessors in designing and conducting assessments, and ensure students are assessed based on the required outcomes of each unit of competency.

Principles of Assessment

1. Fairness

Students are given clear information about assessment processes and have the opportunity to challenge and appeal decisions. Reasonable adjustments are available where required.

2. Flexibility

Assessment considers individual learning needs, circumstances, and prior learning. Methods and timing can be adjusted where appropriate to support equitable participation.

3. Validity

Assessment tasks align directly with the skills, knowledge, and performance criteria specified in the unit of competency.

4. Reliability

Assessment outcomes are consistent across different students, assessors, and assessment contexts.

Rules of Evidence

1. Validity
The evidence collected directly relates to the requirements of the unit of competency.
2. Sufficiency
Enough evidence is gathered to allow the assessor to make a confident judgement about the student's competence.
3. Authenticity
The evidence submitted is the student's own work.
4. Currency
The evidence demonstrates the student's competence at the present time — typically within the past two to three years.

These standards help maintain the integrity and credibility of nationally recognised qualifications. If you ever have questions about how your assessment is being conducted, speak with your trainer or contact the Academic Manager.

PLAGIARISM, CHEATING, AND ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Allman College is committed to upholding the highest standards of academic integrity. All students are expected to complete their own work honestly and ethically. Behaving with integrity during assessment ensures that your achievements are valid, respected, and nationally recognised.

What is Academic Integrity?

Academic integrity means being honest and responsible in your learning and assessment. It involves:

- Completing your own work without copying from others
- Acknowledging any sources or ideas that are not your own
- Following assessment instructions carefully
- Asking for help when you need it, instead of cutting corners

What is Plagiarism?

Plagiarism is the act of using someone else's work, ideas, or wording without properly acknowledging the source. This includes:

- Copying directly from textbooks, websites, or other students
- Submitting someone else's work as your own
- Failing to reference sources where required

What is Cheating?

Cheating refers to dishonest behaviour during an assessment, such as:

- Getting someone else to complete your work
- Sharing answers during a supervised assessment
- Using unauthorised notes or devices during a test

Use of Artificial Intelligence (AI)

The use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) tools (such as ChatGPT, Grammarly, or other generative programs) must be approached with caution and transparency. While such tools can be helpful for developing ideas or improving grammar, using them to generate complete responses or assessment submissions without attribution is considered a form of academic misconduct.

Students must:

- Disclose if AI tools were used to support the preparation of any assessment
- Ensure all submitted work reflects their own understanding and capabilities
- Avoid submitting work generated wholly or substantially by AI

Where the use of AI breaches assessment conditions or masks a student's actual competency, the assessment may be deemed Not Satisfactory and further investigation may follow.

If you're unsure about whether AI use is acceptable in a task, always check with your trainer or assessor first.

Consequences of Academic Misconduct

If a student is found to have plagiarised, cheated, or misused AI tools:

- The assessment will be marked Not Satisfactory
- The incident will be recorded and investigated
- Disciplinary action may include reassessment, suspension, or withdrawal from the course in serious cases

How to Avoid Misconduct

- Ask your trainer if you're unsure about what is required
- Manage your time and start early
- Use your own words and demonstrate your understanding
- Acknowledge all sources — including any use of AI tools
- Do not share your completed assessments with others

Upholding academic integrity protects the value of your qualification and reflects your commitment to ethical and professional behaviour.

MISSED ASSESSMENTS AND REASSESSMENT

Allman College understands that sometimes unforeseen circumstances can prevent students from completing assessments on time. We aim to provide a fair and supportive approach to managing missed assessments and reassessment opportunities, while maintaining the integrity of the qualification.

Missed Assessments

If you are unable to attend or submit an assessment by the due date, you must notify your trainer or Student Administration as soon as possible. Valid reasons may include:

- Illness or medical emergency
- Family or personal hardship
- Unforeseen work commitments (where applicable)

You may be required to provide supporting documentation, such as a medical certificate or statutory declaration. In such cases, alternative arrangements or extensions may be granted at the discretion of the trainer/assessor or training coordinator.

Unexplained or repeated missed assessments may result in a 'Not Satisfactory' outcome and could impact your course progress.

Reassessment

If you receive a Not Satisfactory outcome for an assessment, you will be permitted up to two reassessment attempts per assessment task within the unit delivery period at no additional cost.

If reassessment is required after the unit's conclusion, or due to a late submission without prior approval, a fee may apply. Students can request support or mentoring before attempting reassessment.

Reassessment tasks may differ from the original assessment to preserve the integrity of the process but will assess the same skills and knowledge.

Unsatisfactory Progress and Additional Support

Where repeated reassessment is required, or if you are struggling to meet course requirements, your trainer will discuss additional support strategies. This may include:

- Study or LLN support
- One-on-one guidance
- Adjustment of training strategies
- Development of an intervention or support plan

Allman College is committed to helping students succeed — reassessment is not a failure, but an opportunity to demonstrate your skills and understanding.

SECTION 5: RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING AND CREDIT TRANSFER

Allman College recognises that students may already have skills, knowledge, or previous qualifications that are relevant to the course they are undertaking. You may be eligible to have this prior learning assessed through Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL), or to receive credit for units you have already completed through another Registered Training Organisation. Applying for RPL or credit transfer can reduce the time and cost required to complete your course. Students are encouraged to discuss these options with Student Support prior to enrolment or early in their training.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING (RPL)

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is a process that allows you to receive credit for skills and knowledge you have already acquired — through formal or informal learning, work experience, or life experience — without having to repeat training.

If you can provide valid, sufficient, current and authentic evidence that you meet the requirements of a unit of competency, you may be granted recognition for that unit.

Examples of prior learning include:

- Previous employment in a relevant industry
- Volunteer or community work
- Formal or informal training courses
- Life experience that aligns with the learning outcomes

The RPL Process

1. Initial Inquiry
You can express your interest in RPL during enrolment or at any time during your course. You will receive guidance and an RPL Information Kit to help you decide whether to proceed.
2. Application and Self-Assessment
You will complete an RPL Application Form and provide a portfolio of evidence. This might include resumes, job descriptions, references, work samples, photos, or certificates.
3. Assessment of Evidence
An assessor will review your evidence against the unit requirements. They may also conduct a competency conversation or practical demonstration.
4. Outcome and Feedback
You will receive written advice about the result. If further evidence is needed, you may be given an opportunity to provide it.

Things to Keep in Mind

- RPL is subject to the same rigorous assessment standards as traditional training

- Allman College must ensure that all evidence aligns with the competency requirements
- There are fees for RPL assessments — check with Student Administration

RPL can save time and money and help you move through your course more efficiently. Speak with your trainer or contact the Allman College office if you think RPL may apply to you.

CREDIT TRANSFER (CT)

Credit Transfer is the process of recognising and awarding credit for units of competency you have previously completed with another Registered Training Organisation (RTO). This allows you to avoid repeating the same learning and fast-tracks your pathway to completing your qualification.

When Can Credit Transfer Be Granted?

You may be eligible for Credit Transfer if you can provide:

- A Statement of Attainment or Record of Results from an RTO that lists the exact unit code and title you have completed
- A certificate showing the unit has been completed as part of a nationally recognised qualification
- Evidence that the unit is equivalent to the one currently listed in your course (if superseded or updated)

We will verify the authenticity of your documents and assess their relevance to your current qualification.

The Credit Transfer Process

1. Application

You can apply for Credit Transfer at the time of enrolment or early in your course. Ask for a Credit Transfer Application Form from Student Administration.

2. Submit Documentation

Provide certified copies of your previous qualifications or transcripts.

3. Assessment and Outcome

Allman College will assess your application and advise you in writing of the outcome. If credit is granted, your training schedule will be adjusted accordingly.

Important Notes

- Credit Transfer is not the same as RPL. CT is based only on formal studies completed.
- No fees apply for Credit Transfer applications.
- You will not be required to complete training or assessment for units granted through CT.

Credit Transfer supports learner mobility and reduces duplication of training. If you think you may be eligible, speak with Student Administration or your trainer for assistance.

SECTION 6: STUDENT PARTICIPATION AND MONITORING PROGRESS AND FEEDBACK

To get the most out of your training, it's important to participate fully in all scheduled learning activities and complete the tasks and assessments required for your course. We encourage you to do your best and stay on top of your work. If you have ongoing difficulty completing tasks or regularly miss training sessions, your trainer will check in with you to talk through any issues and help you put a plan in place to get back on track. In some cases, this may involve temporarily pausing your training until you're ready to continue.

If you're enrolled in classroom-based training and know you'll be unable to attend a session, please contact Allman College as early as possible—ideally at least 48 hours beforehand. This gives us time to work with you on a suitable plan to stay up to date. Options might include a catch-up class, some extra self-paced work, or another arrangement that works for your situation. If absences become frequent or we don't hear from you, your place in the course may be affected.

We understand that life happens. If you miss a session and haven't been in touch, we'll try to contact you and see how we can help. If we're unable to reach you after three attempts, we may need to withdraw you from the course until you're ready to re-engage.

MONITORING YOUR PROGRESS

Allman College is here to support you every step of the way. Throughout your training, your progress will be checked regularly to make sure you're keeping pace and getting the most out of your learning experience. Your trainer will offer regular feedback and guidance, and if anything's not going to plan, we'll work with you to create a support strategy that suits your needs and helps you keep moving forward toward your goals.

How Progress is Monitored

Your progress is monitored through:

- Completion of learning activities and assessments
- Attendance at training sessions (where applicable)
- Participation in workplace or simulated tasks
- Communication with your trainer or assessor
- Ongoing reviews of your Training Plan (for students in structured programs)

Trainers and assessors track your achievements against each unit of competency to ensure you are meeting expectations.

Progress Review

At regular intervals during your training, your trainer may:

- Provide informal or formal feedback on your performance
- Discuss any challenges or barriers to learning

- Offer advice or referrals to support services
- Adjust your training strategies if needed

If You Are Falling Behind

If you are not progressing as expected, Allman College may initiate support measures such as:

- Additional tuition or one-on-one assistance
- Adjusted learning resources or assessment timelines
- Development of a support plan

We encourage open communication. If you are facing difficulties, please talk to your trainer early — the earlier we know, the more we can help.

FEEDBACK FROM TRAINERS AND ASSESSORS

Ongoing feedback is a key part of your learning journey at Allman College. It helps you understand how you are progressing, where you are doing well, and where improvements can be made.

Types of Feedback You May Receive

- Assessment Feedback
After submitting an assessment, your assessor will provide written and/or verbal feedback on your performance. This will include whether you have met the requirements and what areas, if any, require further development.
- Progress Discussions
Trainers may provide informal feedback during classes, training sessions, or workplace visits to keep you informed and confident in your progress.
- Structured Review Points
Depending on your course, you may also have formal checkpoints such as unit completions, milestone reviews or training schedule updates.

Why Feedback Matters

- It reinforces your strengths and highlights your achievements
- It clarifies expectations for assessment and performance
- It provides direction for further learning
- It supports your confidence and motivation

We encourage you to ask for feedback at any time. Your trainer is here to support your success. Open and respectful communication is always welcomed.

SUPPORT PLANS (IF APPLICABLE)

Allman College is committed to ensuring every student has a fair and supported opportunity to succeed. Where a student is identified as not progressing satisfactorily, we may implement an intervention process with a Support Plan to help you get back on track.

When is a Student Support Plan Used?

A support plan may be initiated if:

- You have received multiple 'Not Satisfactory' results
- You have missed key assessments or milestones
- Your attendance or engagement in training is low
- You have identified challenges affecting your study (e.g. personal, health, language or literacy issues)

What the Plan Involves

Each plan is tailored to your individual needs and may include:

- Modified training schedules
- Additional learning support or tutoring
- Reasonable adjustments to assessment methods
- Access to wellbeing services
- Clear goals, timelines, and review checkpoints

Your trainer or the Student Support Officer will work with you to co-develop the plan and agree on strategies for improvement. The plan is recorded and monitored regularly.

Our Commitment

Intervention and support planning is not punitive, it's a proactive step to ensure you have every opportunity to achieve competency and complete your qualification. We respect your individual learning journey and are here to assist you in overcoming any barriers.

WITHDRAWAL FROM A COURSE

If you wish to terminate your participation in a training program, please inform your trainer or Allman College administration immediately and complete a withdrawal form. This will ensure that your Statement of Attainment can be awarded to you promptly for the work you have successfully completed. The student is required to fill out the Application for Course Deferment or Withdrawal form, available from Student Support

If a student is unreachable or does not reply to the RTO's attempts to communicate, their enrolment may be terminated. This measure will only be considered after the RTO has exhausted every reasonable effort to contact the student and determine their intentions regarding the continuation or completion of their course. The student will be advised in writing prior to this action taking place and provided with an opportunity to discuss the issue.

SECTION 7: WORK PLACEMENT (IF APPLICABLE)

Some courses delivered by Allman College include a work placement component. Work placement provides the opportunity to apply your knowledge and skills in a real-world environment and is a valuable part of your training and assessment.

Placement Requirements

If your course includes a compulsory work placement, it will be clearly stated in your course brochure and discussed during orientation. To undertake work placement, the following conditions generally apply:

- You must have completed required units or preparatory training prior to commencing placement
- You must meet all relevant compliance requirements (e.g. Working with Children Check Police Check, immunisation requirements, or confidentiality agreements)
- You must be available during scheduled placement hours and comply with attendance expectations
- You are expected to follow workplace policies, procedures, and codes of conduct
- You must actively participate in work-based tasks as directed by your supervisor and trainer

Work placement is a formal part of your course. The hours you complete, the tasks you perform, and the feedback from your workplace supervisor all contribute to your final assessment.

Supervision and Assessment

While on placement:

- You will be supervised by a qualified and approved workplace supervisor
- An Allman College workplace assessor will conduct scheduled workplace visits and assessments
- You may also be required to submit reflective journals, reports, or other evidence as part of your assessment

Allman College will provide you with a Work Placement Handbook, a Logbook and information about your responsibilities before your placement begins.

WORKPLACE LOGBOOKS AND ASSESSMENT

During your work placement, you will be required to maintain a Workplace Logbook. This document is an important part of your assessment and must be completed accurately and honestly.

Purpose of the Logbook

The logbook:

- Records the tasks and activities you complete in the workplace
- Confirms the hours you have undertaken in a real or simulated work environment
- Provides evidence of competency for your assessor

- Allows your workplace supervisor to provide feedback on your performance
- Helps you reflect on your learning and workplace experience

Completing Your Logbook

- You must complete entries at the end of each shift or day of placement
- Your supervisor must sign each entry to confirm accuracy and completion
- The logbook must be submitted to your trainer/assessor according to your training schedule or unit requirements
- All workplace activities should align with the units of competency in your course

Failure to complete the logbook may result in a delay in your assessment or course completion.

Other Assessment Methods Used in Placement

In addition to the logbook, your assessor may:

- Observe you performing tasks in the workplace
- Conduct interviews or practical demonstrations
- Collect third-party reports from your supervisor
- Review documentation you produce during placement

Assessment in the workplace must meet the Rules of Evidence and Principles of Assessment. Your assessor will explain what is required before placement begins.

WORKPLACE RIGHTS AND SAFETY

Allman College is committed to ensuring your health, safety, and wellbeing while you are undertaking work placement. All students have the right to a safe, fair, and respectful work environment.

Your Rights During Work Placement

While on placement, you have the right to:

You are not expected to perform tasks beyond the scope of your training or that put your safety at risk.

Your Responsibilities

As a placement student, you are expected to:

- Follow workplace health and safety procedures
- Use equipment safely and wear required personal protective equipment (PPE)

- Report any hazards, incidents or injuries immediately
- Maintain confidentiality and professionalism

If you feel unsafe, mistreated or are unsure about something during placement:

1. Speak with your workplace supervisor

3. Submit a complaint or incident report if needed

We will act quickly and confidentially to investigate and support you.

Insurance Coverage

Students undertaking authorised work placements through Allman College are covered by insurance. This includes personal accident and public liability coverage for placement activities approved and recorded by the College.

SECTION 8: CERTIFICATION AND COMPLETION

On completing the training program with Allman College, you will receive a nationally recognised qualification. The qualification is recognised within the Australian Qualifications Framework. Qualifications are formatted to a uniform standard to ensure they are valid documents and will be instantly recognised throughout Australia. A qualification issued by Allman College will be accompanied by a transcript which will detail the units of competency issued within the qualification.

Where a student does not complete the entire course requirements, they may be entitled to receive a Statement of Attainment. A Statement of Attainment is issued by a Registered Training Organisation when an individual has completed one or more accredited units or modules.

A Statement of Attainment can be used as a basis for recognition of your current competence with other Registered Training Organisations. A statement of results will be available to you upon request throughout your training. This will provide you information on your progress.

ISSUING OF AQF CERTIFICATION

Once you have been assessed as competent in all required units of competency and met all course requirements:

- You will be issued with a Certificate (for a full qualification) or a Statement of Attainment (for partial completion or short courses)
- Certification is issued within 30 calendar days of your completion, provided all fees are paid and your USI has been verified

All certification issued by Allman College complies with:

- The Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) Issuance Policy
- Compliance Requirements - Standards for RTOs 2025 – Division 2: Certification
- ASQA's recordkeeping and integrity requirements

A Statement of Attainment can be used as a basis for recognition of your current competence with other Registered Training Organisations. A statement of results will be available to you upon request throughout your training. This will provide you information on your progress.

Conditions for Receiving Certificates

To receive your certification, you must:

- Be assessed as competent in all units of competency required for your qualification
- Have a verified USI (Unique Student Identifier)
- Ensure all fees and outstanding requirements have been finalised
- Have completed any work placement (if applicable) and submitted all required documentation such as logbooks

Where a student does not complete the entire course requirements, they may be entitled to receive a Statement of Attainment.

REPLACEMENT OR REISSUE REQUESTS

If your certificate or Statement of Attainment is lost, damaged or needs to be updated due to a name change:

- You may request a reissue by submitting a Replacement Certificate Request Form
- A reissue fee may apply — contact Student Administration for details
- Identification and supporting documentation may be required

Please store your original certificates safely — they are important documents recognised nationally.

SECTION 10: COMPLAINTS AND APPEALS

Allman College is committed to ensuring that all students have access to a fair, transparent, and accessible process for making complaints and appealing decisions.

We value feedback and take all concerns seriously. Whether your issue relates to training, assessment, support services, facilities, another student, or a member of staff, you are encouraged to raise it through our formal processes.

What is a complaint?

A complaint is negative feedback about services, whether provided by Allman College or others on its behalf, other students or staff which has not been resolved locally. A complaint may be received by Allman College in any form and does not need to be formally documented by the complainant in order to be acted on. Complaints may be made by any person but are generally made by students and/or employers.

What is an appeal?

An appeal is an application by a student for reconsideration of an unfavourable decision or finding during training and/or assessment. An appeal must be made in writing and specify the particulars of the decision or finding in dispute. Appeals must be submitted to Allman College within 28 days of the student being informed of the assessment decision or finding.

Early resolution of complaints and appeals

In all cases, issues that arise during training and assessment that are the source of frustration or are in dispute should be resolved at the time they occur between the persons involved, where possible. Sometimes, it will not be possible and in these cases, you are encouraged to come forward and inform us of your concerns with the confidence that you will be treated fairly.

COMPLAINT AND APPEALS HANDLING

Allman College is committed to providing a fair, transparent, and supportive process for resolving complaints and appeals. The following principles apply:

- A written record of all complaints and appeals will be maintained, including details of how they were lodged, investigated, and resolved.
- Students have the right to formally present their case at no cost.
- Complainants and appellants may be accompanied and supported by a person of their choice during any related meetings.
- The complaint or appeal process will begin within 5 working days of lodgement. Every effort will be made to resolve the matter promptly.
- Written notification of the outcome, including the rationale for the decision, will be provided to the student.
- The student's enrolment will be maintained throughout the complaint or appeal process.
- If the outcome is in the student's favour, appropriate corrective actions will be implemented immediately.
- All complaints and appeals will be treated confidentially. No information will be shared with a third party without written consent from the student and authorisation from the RTO.

- All matters will be handled with procedural fairness and used as an opportunity for continuous improvement, with outcomes reported to the CEO.

HOW TO MAKE A COMPLAINT

if you have a concern or are dissatisfied with any aspect of your training or experience at Allman College:

1. Informal Resolution

Start by discussing the issue with the person involved, your trainer, or the Student Support Officer—if you feel safe and comfortable doing so. Many concerns can be resolved quickly and informally.

2. Formal Complaint

If the issue is not resolved informally, you may lodge a formal complaint by completing the Complaints Form, available from Student Services or the RTO's website.

Once submitted:

- Your complaint will be acknowledged within 5 business days
- It will be handled confidentially and fairly
- A written outcome will be provided as soon as practicable

APPEALING AN ASSESSMENT OUTCOME

If you disagree with the result of an assessment:

- First, raise your concerns with your assessor within 10 working days of receiving your result.
- If not resolved, you may lodge a formal appeal using the Complaints and Appeals Form.
- A different qualified assessor will independently review your evidence and reassess your work.
- You will receive a written outcome of the appeal, typically within 20 working days.

EXTERNAL COMPLAINT PATHWAYS

- If complainant is not satisfied with the outcome of the complaint handling, the Chief Executive Officer may arrange for the complaint to be considered by an appropriate independent third-party such as the Resolution Institute, the national association of dispute resolvers, as an appropriate third party. The full Feedback and Complaints Management Policy and Procedure and Appeals Policy and Procedure are available on the website.

SECTION 11: SERVICE GUARANTEE AND CONSUMER PROTECTION

Allman College is committed to providing high-quality training and assessment services in line with its contractual and ethical obligations to students. This section outlines the College's guarantees regarding the delivery of training and assessment, your rights as a consumer under Australian law, and the procedures in place if agreed services change or cannot be fulfilled. It is important that you understand these protections and how they apply throughout your enrolment.

GUARANTEE OF SERVICE

Allman College is committed to completing the outlined training and assessment once students have commenced their study and to meeting all of its student responsibilities.

In the unlikely event that Allman College is unable to commence or complete the course, it will, if possible, arrange for the agreed training and assessment to be completed through another RTO (Fees may be incurred).

Prior to the transfer to another RTO, affected students will be formally notified of the arrangements, and an agreement to those arrangements, including any refund of fees, will be obtained. If transfer is not possible, Allman College will provide a refund of any unused portion of the fee.

CHANGES TO AGREED SERVICES

Allman College is committed to keeping students fully informed of any changes to the services initially agreed at enrolment. In accordance with the Standards for RTOs 2025, students will be notified in writing within 10 business days if there are any changes to:

- The ownership or legal entity of the RTO
- The delivery of training and assessment, including the use of new or existing third-party arrangements
- The discontinuation, cancellation, or closure of the RTO or a training product in which the student is enrolled

Students will receive formal notification outlining the nature of the change, how it may affect their enrolment, and what options are available. Where required, appropriate arrangements will be made to minimise disruption to the student's training. Where applicable, students will be given the opportunity to appeal or seek further clarification before any changes are implemented.

CONSUMER RIGHTS & STATUTORY COOLING OFF PERIOD

Under the Australian Consumer Law, most products and services bought in Australia come with automatic guarantees that it will work and do what you paid for. Businesses must provide these automatic guarantees regardless of any other warranties they give to you or sell you. If a business fails to deliver any of these guarantees, you have consumer rights for:

- repair, replacement or refund
- cancelling a service
- compensation for damages and loss.

See the NSW Fair Trading website for specific information on guarantees, contracts and warranties as it applies in NSW. <https://www.fairtrading.nsw.gov.au/buying-products-and-services/guarantees,-contracts-and-warranties/contracts>

Please also see the information in this Student Handbook on

- Complaints and appeal policy and procedure.
- Fees and refund policy.

The Standards for Registered Training Organisations require a person to be informed of their right to a statutory cooling off period. A statutory cooling off period is defined within the Australian Consumer Law which was introduced in 2011. A statutory cooling off period (which is 10 days) is a period of time provided to a consumer to allow them to withdraw from a consumer agreement, where that agreement was established through unsolicited marketing or sales tactics.

These include tactic such as door-to-door sales and telemarketing. A statutory cooling off period allows a consumer to withdraw from a sales agreement within 10 days of having received a sale contract without penalty. All students are recommended to refer to the Australian Consumer Law, Sales Practices Guide for further details about a statutory cooling off period and our general obligations for consumer protection during the enrolment process.

It must be noted that Allman College does not engage in unsolicited marketing or sales tactics and therefore a statutory cooling off period is not likely to be applicable to our learners who have enrolled into a program. For refund option in other circumstances, learners must refer to the refund policy.

SECTION 12: FEEDBACK AND CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT

At Allman College, we believe that student feedback is essential to improving the quality of our training, assessment, and support services. Your input helps us to understand what is working well and where we can do better.

STUDENT FEEDBACK OPPORTUNITIES

You will have several opportunities to provide feedback throughout your training, including:

- Orientation surveys
- Mid-course check-ins
- End-of-course evaluations
- Work placement feedback (if applicable)
- Ad hoc or informal conversations with your trainer or support staff

Feedback can be provided anonymously if you prefer, and we encourage open and honest responses.

At the completion of your training program, you will be issued with a Learner Engagement Survey. This is a nationally consistent survey tool which is designed to collect feedback from students about their experience with an RTO and in undertaking nationally recognised training.

HOW FEEDBACK IS USED TO IMPROVE SERVICES

Feedback is reviewed regularly by trainers, management, and quality assurance staff to:

- Identify areas where improvements are needed
- Inform changes to course delivery, resources, or support
- Recognise excellence in teaching and student support
- Monitor student satisfaction and outcomes over time
- Meet our compliance obligations under the Standards for RTOs 2025

SECTION 13: FEES AND REFUNDS

Allman College charges fees for items or services provided to students undertaking a course of study. These charges are generally for items such as course materials or textbooks, amenities fees and training and assessment services.

Details of fees and charges are available on the fees schedule on the course brochures.

All students are issued with an invoice prior to enrolment clearly stating the full cost of the course relevant to them. This invoice will itemise fees including tuition fees, administration fees and amenities fees. Allman College does not collect more than $1500 in advance from students prior to enrolment.

METHOD FOR PAYMENT OF FEES

Allman College accepts payment for fees using:

- Credit Card
- Electronic Funds Transfer (account details available on request)
